PLAN REPUBLIC RUINS OF LAND

Revolutionary Party of Russia Are Now Making Their Plans For Free Country.

AUTONOMY FOR ALL THE SECTIONS

Universal Ballot, Separation Of Church And State, Abolition Of Standing Army, With An Eight-Hour Day--The Project.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Petersburg, April 7.—Ugly rumors are afloat that the revolutionists intend to mark the festival of the Annunciation to-day by a terrible outrage.

Revolutionary Program.

Moscow, April 7.—The central committee of the social revolutionary party has drawn up a document containing the main points of its program, and of this hundreds of thousands of copies are being printed for circulation in all parts of European Russia.

The first and main point of the program is the establishment of a democratic republic on the ruins of the autocracy, and besides the usual points of social democratic doctrine, it includes many arguments especially directed to Russian conditions and designed to appeal to the self-interest of the Russian proletariat, both agricultural and industrial. It voices phrases familiar to the American ear, such as "initiative and referendum,"

"public ownership of public utilities," etc.

Demands Many Reforms.

The program is divided under two heads, the first politico-legal domain, under which it demands:

The institution of a democratic republic with broad autonomy for the provinces, municipalities and communes.

Direct secret universal ballot, without distinction as to sex, nationality or religion.

Separation of church and state, complete freedom of conscience, speech, the press, assembly and association.

The abolition of the standing army and substitution of a national militia.

Under the second head, national economy and domain, the party favors the eight-hour day with a reduction for the more dangerous and unsanitary occupations; a minimum wage scale, state insurance for all.

SOLONS BECOMING WEARY OF GRIND

Measures of Little General Consequence Being Summarily Dealt with at Madison.

[Special Correspondence.]

Madison, Wis., April 7.—The disposition of the members of the legislature to begin the day of adjournment as fast as practicable is becoming daily more and more apparent and pronounced. The senators and assemblymen are tiring of the long and contentious hearings on various bills and particularly are they weary of measures of local importance and of little general consequence to the state at large.

The warm weather of spring, green grass, fresh air, and doubtless the increasing pressure of neglected personal business are combining to stimulate the members to hurry the business of legislation to completion. With respect to local bills there is a disposition to require the parties to the disputes to agree among themselves on the bill in question or upon amendments, or else no bill at all be passed.

This is coming to be the situation in the Eau Claire controversy over the celebrated dam bill. Yesterday afternoon, after another series of long and animated hearings on this bill, Senator Rogers, acting as chairman of the committee on state affairs, asked the Eau Claire people if a week from Tuesday would suit them for the next hearing.

Senator Smith broke in with a demand to know whether it was necessary to keep up the agony any longer. Another senator exclaimed "How long, O Lord, how long!" Senator Smith said he had listened to the lawyers of Eau Claire fight over that dam matter until he was sick of it, and he thought the character of the bill suggested well a name for the controversy, more expressive perhaps than polite. This same expeditious disposition was manifested by the senate committee on railroads in regard to the hearing on the two-cent fare bill. No week of arguments will be allowed, but the attorneys must be brief and plain. The members are weary and want to perform their duty as soon as possible.

The condition of Senator Orville H. Platt, who has been ill at his residence in Washington, Conn., with bronchitis and pneumonia, was declared by his physician to be not so favorable.

STRIKE OF THE EXPRESS DRIVERS NOW THREATENS

Pickets Surround Montgomery Ward Building This Morning and Stop Deliveries--Police Prepare For Riots.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Ill., April 7.—The strike pickets of the teamsters' union surrounded the building of Montgomery Ward & Co. at the corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street to-day and the drivers with consignments of goods for the firm were turned back. The discharge of several express drivers who refused to haul consignments to the strike-bound company threatens to bring about a general walk-out of teamsters for all the railway express companies in the city. In addition to

An Elgin, Ill., Merchant at Divorced Wife's Obsequies, Though Relatives Object.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Elgin, Ill., April 7.—A. S. Lloyd, an Elgin merchant, has secured an injunction restraining the relatives of his divorced wife from preventing him from attending her funeral to-day.

RUSSIAN RETREAT STILL CONTINUES

Main Force Recently Defeated Near Chinchiatun on Way to Shumiencheng.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Tokio, April 7.—The main force of the Russian army in the east, which was recently defeated in the neighborhood of Chinchiatun, has deviated toward Shumiencheng and a part of it has retreated along the Peking road. A small force of Russians is occupying Taissoy, twenty-six miles west of Weiwanpaochen.

BEEF INQUIRY IS TO MAKE DECISION

Possibility That Indictments Will Be Voted Against Several Packers.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Ill., April 7.—True bills charging perjury are contemplated, it is reported by the "beef trust" grand jury, and the witnesses before that body who occupy high positions in the packing companies are to be the objects of the accusations. The federal officials say several prominent packers' representatives, both in Chicago and other cities, left the jury room after telling lies, believing they had fooled the government.

Fifteen subpoenas for additional witnesses have been issued and it is believed the evidence wanted from those bears wholly on the perjury investigation.

The police stationed in the vicinity of the Montgomery Ward company building, to prevent any violence, a large detail is being held in readiness at the Central police station for a riot call. The strike was called by the Chicago Federation of Labor to force Montgomery Ward & Co. and other companies to recognize the garment-makers' union.

Four arrests were made this noon in connection with the efforts of the strikers to stop the delivery of goods to Montgomery Ward & Co. John Olson, a teamster, was severely beaten by the crowd.

A professor of the University of Chicago declares in another geologic period that man will be extinct and that bird life will be dominant. We had noticed the tendency.

WHOLE DISTRICT IS PANIC STRICKEN

Earthquake at Lahore, Indiana, Is Far Reaching in Its Results.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Lahore, April 7.—Four men of the seventh Gurkha regiment and seventy of the first Gurkha regiment were buried alive in the recent earthquake at Dharmasala. It is reported a rescue is impossible. The town of Kwangra and a population of fifty thousand are ruined by the earthquake. The loss of life is enormous. It is also reported that the whole town of Palampur, with twenty thousand inhabitants is leveled to the ground.

"JACK THE RIPPER" IS IN EVIDENCE

New York Has a Mysterious Killing of a Young Girl in a Hotel Room.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

New York, April 7.—James Boyne, steward of the Avon democratic club, is under arrest, charged with the murder of a young woman named May Wilson, who died in the hospital as the result of several stab wounds in a room in the Hotel Lawrence last night. Boyne was arrested in front of the hotel, but claimed he never saw the woman. At the hospital, before she died, the woman identified him as her assailant. She said she had no quarrel and never saw the man before last night. The police have a "Jack the Ripper" theory.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Brigadier General Frederick Funston yesterday relieved General Francis Moore of the command of the department of California and the division of the Pacific at the headquarters in San Francisco.

Dr. August Scott, president of Rutgers college, New Brunswick, N. J., has been granted a year's leave of absence with full pay, the trustees declining to accept the resignation which he had tendered because of ill health.

Professor Wilhelm Ostwald of the University of Leipzig, one of the founders of the modern science of physical chemistry, has been invited by Harvard university to serve as lecturer under the arrangement for an exchange of professors which has recently been agreed upon with the German government.

Secretary Hay and Mrs. Hay, who are stopping at the Hotel Eden there, say they find Nervi, Italy, most pleasant, and declare they will remain there for some time.

General debate on the bill for the separation of church and state was concluded in the French chamber of deputies by a speech by M. Briand, reporter of the separation committee, who contended that the state's duty was to recover its independence in religious matters.

At the session of the lower house of the Hungarian diet Francis Kosuth, leader of the united opposition, moved the appointment of a committee to draw up an address to the emperor-king setting forth the terms upon which the parliamentary majority would be willing to support a new ministry.

OIL MAGNATE MAKES REPLY

John D. Rockefeller's Counsel Answers Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden.

CHIEF MADE MONEY HONESTLY

Assertion That His Wealth Is Accumulated in Any Other Way Is Denounced as False and Vile—Company's Trade Is Legitimate.

New York, April 7.—John D. Rockefeller, who has submitted in silence to the attacks of Thomas W. Lawson, and who has been unmoved by the writings of Ida M. Tarbell, has been driven to violent retort by the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden.

In a formal statement issued over the signature of S. C. T. Dodd, chief solicitor for the Standard Oil company, Mr. Rockefeller denounces Dr. Gladden's statement that he had made his money dishonestly as "false and vile, and being made by ministers in the pretended interest of morality is doubly vile."

Defends Business Methods.

Then follows a sharply worded, emphatic defense of John D. Rockefeller and the business methods of the Standard Oil company. "It is declared: That the assertion that John D. Rockefeller made his money dishonestly is false."

That it has never been proved in any court of law that the Standard has violated the law.

That the Standard does not destroy competition by controlling the railroad companies.

That the Standard does not own a share of stock in any railroad company.

No Advantage in Rates.

That stockholders of the Standard who own railroad stocks as individual investors do not form a majority on the board of directors of any railroad.

That the Standard does not enjoy a freight rate on any railroad in the United States lower than the rate given its competitors.

That the Standard has no connection, directly or indirectly, with the organization of any gas or copper company.

That the Standard never received a discriminatory rebate from a railroad company, but that its competitors often receive lower rates than it has paid.

TIE VOTE IN BRODHEAD ON LICENSE QUESTION

To Drink or Not to Drink Still the Question There—City Council Remains Same.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brodhead, April 7.—Brodhead is a tie on the liquor question. Considerable excitement prevails. It is thought, however, that the no-license crowd will win the fight. The city council remains the same with the exception of the election of a new alderman in the second ward.

SENATE LAZY AND WANTED TO ADJOURN

Assembly, However, Was Busy This Morning with Matters of Importance.

Madison, Wis., April 7.—After a long debate the assembly refused to pass the Potter bill to abolish the office of county supervisor of assessments, the vote being 37 to 42. Another debate was precipitated on the Turner bill to provide for a lien on gravesites and monuments. The bill was opposed by Cleary and others because it would stimulate the sale of costly stones to people who could not afford them, that the subject of graves is too delicate for such legislation and that the bill was demanded only by dealers who wish to push their sales to improvident people. The bill was passed 49 to 31.

The senate was lazy, laying over almost the entire calendar, and then trying to adjourn to Monday, but was prevented by the presiding officer because of previous joint resolution for Saturday session.

DEAD MAN KNOWN TO BE AN ITALIAN

Now Thought He Was Murdered by Former Companions Because of a Grudge.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

San Francisco, Cal., April 7.—The dead man whose partially dismembered body was found late Wednesday night has been identified as Harry Uma, an Italian peddler. The police believe the murdered man was a witness in an Italian murder case years ago in which a man named Crudo was sent to prison for twenty years. Relatives of Crudo are said to have declared they would get vengeance.

CALUMET MINE FOREMAN IS KILLED BY FALLING BRICK

Joseph Prestelli Meets Death on Slope This Morning—Three Others Injured.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—Joseph Prestelli, foreman of the Baltic mine at Calumet, was killed by a falling brick while timbering the slope today. Three men were injured.

EMPEROR WILHELM FAILS TO ATTEND THE PARADE

Of His Own Regiment of Horse Guards for the First Time in His Reign.

St. Petersburg, April 7.—The Emperor and Imperial family were absent from the annual parade of the Horse Guards today. This is the emperor's own regiment and he has never before failed to attend the parade.

Dr. David McGill Very Ill.

Pittsburg, April 7.—Rev. David F. McGill, D. D., clerk of the United Presbyterian general assembly and pastor of the Sixth church, Allegheny, is suffering from dilatation of the heart, following an attack of grip.

Kills His Stepmother.

Benton, Ill., April 7.—Parker Atkins shot and killed his stepmother, Albert Rea, at Zeigler. The trouble arose over a board bill.

MEN FORM LINE TO SAVE LIVES

Fifteen Persons Are Rescued By The Heroic Measures Of Bold Rescuers.

DRAGGED THE VICTIMS FROM SEA

Human Chain Hanging Over A Cliff Does Effective Work In The Storm-Lashed Waters.

Block Island, April 7.—In a dense fog that covered the sea and land the coal barge Texas and the tug Covington grounded at the south side of the island Thursday morning. Two men perished and fifteen were brought ashore by means of a human lifeline. Risking their own lives, four members of the crew of the South-east light station, holding to each other by their hands and feet, swung themselves over the cliff and dragged the imperiled men one by one from the breakers.

It was a thrilling rescue, but in spite of the heroic efforts of the four rescuers one of the boat's crew died after being hauled out of the storm-lashed surf and another was carried out to sea.

The Texas was grounded to pieces in half an hour, but the tug swung away from the shoal and limped into New London with its fires awash and in danger of sinking at any moment.

Answer Call for Help.

The crews of the vessels did not know where they were until they heard the booming of the surf. It was too late then to escape. The barge struck and dragged the tug on the shoal before the tow lines could be cut. Crashing and grinding on the rocks, the large ship began to leak.

The latches were torn up by the rush of the sea, and Capt. Olsen and his men crowded aft to the house, where they put on life-preservers. It was a jump for life, with the chances of getting through the surf alive against them.

By that time the tug had cut loose to save itself and was blowing its distress whistles. The appeal for help was heard by the men in the lighthouse. Four of them hurried to the edge of the cliff.

Fifteen Are Rescued.

One man let another down, a third took hold of the legs of the second, the fourth held the third. In that way the chain formed of lifesavers called the men battling with the surf to work toward them.

One by one the men neared the shore and were hauled up. In half an hour fifteen were out of danger, but two more were in the surf. They had lost their senses from their exhausting struggles for life, and floated about as if they were dead. At last, after many efforts, one was reached and hauled up the cliff. He was Joseph Berno, a deck hand, and he died in a few minutes. The body of John L. Toole, the cook, was caught in the undertow and carried out to sea.

KING EDWARD GOES ABOARD HIS BOAT

Arrives at Marseilles and Joins His Wife Aboard the Royal Yacht.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Marseilles, April 7.—King Edward arrived this morning and immediately boarded the royal yacht Victoria, where Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family awaited him on deck. It is not believed the vessel will sail today, owing to bad weather.

Priest Stops Cocking Main.

Scranton, Pa., April 7.—Rev. J. V. Moyley, assistant pastor of Holy Rosary church, North Scranton, suppressed a cocking main near Priceburg. One hundred "sports" ran away when the priest appeared at the pitside.

WHITE PLAGUE SAPS OUT MANY LIVES EACH YEAR

The Conditions At Joliet Prison Are Said To Favor The Spread Of This Disease.

Joliet, Ill., April 7.—The rapid spread of tuberculosis among prisoners in the Joliet penitentiary, attended by largely increased mortality, is to be investigated by the state board of health. It is not denied by members of the board that a "crisis" has been reached in the efforts of the prison authorities to combat the disease under present conditions, that unless better sanitation is established, it will be practically impossible to prevent the spread of tuberculosis to all the prisoners now there and to others who may be sentenced to Joliet in the future.

Dr. George W. Webster of Chicago, president of the board, has gone to Joliet, attended by J. H. Long, professor of chemistry in Northwestern University Medical school. Others who will assist in the inspection, which is scheduled to last two weeks, are Dr. J. A. Eagan, also a member of the state board of health, and J. A. Harmon of Peoria, the board's sanitary engineer.

Cells Are Too Small.

"We have no accurate knowledge of sanitary conditions" at Joliet as yet, but we know they are far from perfect," said Dr. Webster. "In instituting an investigation we are acting on the belief that the state of Illinois has no more right carelessly to infect a convict with tuberculosis than it has to take him out and hang him."

"I am informed that in some of the old cells at the penitentiary there are only about 100 cubic feet of air to a prisoner, although in the worst lodging houses the state law requires that there shall be 400 cubic feet for each prisoner. And the ordinances of the city of Chicago require 12,000 feet for each patient in a hospital."

To Analyze Prison Air.

"My idea in securing the services of Prof. Long is to have him make an analysis of the air in every part of the prison where it seems that lack of ventilation promotes the spread of infection. I will have him make a special analysis of the air in cells that have been occupied continuously by convicts from Saturday night until work is resumed Monday morning."

"There is no gainsaying that, as matters now stand, the sentencing of a man in feeble health or of weak constitution to Joliet for a year or two is often equivalent to a death sentence. However, I believe conditions are much improved over what they have been in past years. It is not known generally, but it is a fact, that every death in certain years past was from tuberculosis."

Death Rate Is High.

"Without having exact data at hand, I should say the death rate at Joliet is now about four or five times higher than the average death rate of the large cities. This is a startling statement, certainly, and one that furnishes sufficient ground, itself, for an investigation."

The conditions disclosed in the board's inspection of the penitentiary would be made public, Dr. Webster added. There was no desire on the part of any member of the board, he said, that the lack of proper sanitary conditions at the prison, wherever rested the responsibility, should be kept secret.

MUTUALS PLAY CREAM CITIES

GAMES AS PLAYED WITH THE CREAM CITY NINE.

HOW THE GAME WAS PLAYED

Frank L. Smith Writes of the Days When Baseball Was Baseball.

(By Frank L. Smith.) The Milwaukee club has been gradually improving its nine while we were sliding down the toboggan, among the players secured being Weaver, a very swift and experienced pitcher from Philadelphia, who gave them sufficient confidence to warrant an invitation to us for a game on July 4th which was readily accepted. Brooke a friend of Bushong from the east made his first appearance on first base in this game. Burns played left field. There was a large crowd in attendance which took great satisfaction in the defeat of the Mutuals by a score of 7 to 0, our boys not making a base hit during the game, and here is how it was accomplished:

While the Mutuals were attempting the legitimate in Milwaukee there was a great burlesque going on at our grounds in this city—possibly not more of a burlesque than some of the exhibitions the regulars were giving—but this was advertised as such, the 500 spectators knew what to expect and everybody got their money's worth. It was a game of ball between the "Fats" and "Leans", the gate receipts to be donated to the Mutuals. The "Fats" consisted of Jim Church, Hiram Bump, Guy Carter, Conrad Stearns, St. John, Hathaway, Fendrick and Whitton. The "Leans" were Pease, Hollister, Rofford, Potter, Baldwin, Ranous, Baker, Hadley and Burnham. Understudies were frequently called upon to take different actor's parts, and the comedy of errors was finally called at the end of the sixth inning when the score was 15 to 14 in favor of the Fats. The greatest hit of the game was made by "Jim" Church when he took off his shoes to play in his stocking feet. M. C. Smith umpired the game and it certainly indicated great interest of our citizens in baseball when they would get out in the hot sun for a couple of hours to help the cause along.

Then the Milwaukee club won another game in that city by a score of 6 to 1, Milwaukee making eleven hits and four errors, and the Mutuals five hits and six errors. Utterly discouraged at the long string of defeats, in sheer desperation, a game was arranged with our old friends at Jefferson, feeling that if we met defeat at their hands we would surely give up the ghost. Fortune favored our boys and they won 16 to 0, shutting the Jeffersons out without a base hit, but this onward progress was checked at Rockford a couple of days afterwards where we were defeated 7 to 6 in a ten inning game after striking out 16 of the Forest Citys. Then something had to be done or close up the shop. Prior to this time Bliss had settled his differences with the Milwaukee club and they had made him a good offer to join their nine, which he was very anxious to accept, but the management would not listen to his appeal for a release, and thereafter, while he played his position, with one exception, in first class style, his spirit as a leader seemed to have entirely disappeared. Bodell was anxious to retire for business reasons and the Memphis club having disbanded, Shoupe, the second base man, was secured and installed as captain. Burns was at the same time given his release.

The Manchester, N. H. club came here on July 20th with a great reputation and the Mutuals having temporarily recovered their stride, defeated them in a well played game 4 to 1, as witness the score:

The run scored by the Manchesters was a home run by O'Rourke. The Manchester club remained over Sunday and on Monday took the Mutuals into camp 7 to 0, Shoupe making his first appearance at second base. The Mutuals made five base hits and ten errors, the Manchesters twelve hits and four errors. About this time a young man named Ward was creating quite a sensation in Philadelphia by his wonderful curve pitching. It seems he was playing with a club in Renona, Pa., which defeated the Williamsport club. Then he later engaged him to pitch against the Athletics of Philadelphia, and they in turn took him with them to use against the Philadelphia of that city. As he was successful in these various moves the Philadelphia engaged him and while with that club our management opened negotiations for his services. The Milwaukee club was also after him and he came west directly to that city. Bliss was sent to meet him, and on account of his youthful appearance, and the fact of their being well equipped in the pitching department, Bliss was allowed to bring him to Jansville. Ward was only seventeen years of age, but his first appearance in practice proved that all the good things said of his pitching were true. He was also a good batter and base runner, and was in the game all the time and inspired ginger and snap into the team—something badly needed just at that time.

August 4th the Mutuals were called to Milwaukee by wire to take the place of the Indianapolis club which was unable to fulfill its engagement. This was Ward's first appearance with the Mutuals, and by holding the Milwaukee down to three hits, he was a strong factor in the winning of the game by a score of 3 to 2. The Mutuals making four hits and eight errors—the Milwaukee six errors. The return game took place here August 7th and proved to be the most exciting that ever took place in the city. Both sides retired in the fifth inning without a semblance of a run and it looked as though there would be a continuance of that state of affairs until darkness stopped the game, but in the ninth inning after James and Shoupe had been retired, Bliss took first on three balls, and second on Ward's base hit; then advanced a base on passed ball; then followed a succession of five base hits by Arundel, Bushong, Brooke, Morrissey and Cantillon, bringing in five runs, three of which were earned, James going out for the second time in the inning on a short hit to Weaver, leaving two men on the bases. The shouts of the spectators during the excitement, they say, could be plainly heard in Milton. The noise certainly crazed Will Rogers, the manager of the Milwaukee club, as at their turn at the bat realizing that they were doomed to another shut out, he kicked at a decision of umpire, and withdrew his men from the field, but the game was virtually over, so the spectators got the worth of their money, and Rogers was censured by everyone, including his home papers. There was great excitement on the streets that night, the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets especially being thronged with people talking over the incidents of the afternoon and some of the older citizens freely expressed their opinions of the Milwaukee club's action in withdrawing from the game.

Will Christen the St. Louis. St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Miss Gladys Bryant Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith, has been designated by Mayor Wells as sponsor at the christening of the United States cruiser St. Louis, which will be launched in Philadelphia May 6.

Trims Corn and Dies. Milton, Ky., April 7.—Mrs. Connie Humphrey is dead. She was 99 years old and was wonderfully preserved until she trimmed a corn recently. Blood poisoning and death followed. She was an aunt of John C. New of Indianapolis.

Asks Damages of Lodge. Bloomington, Ill., April 7.—Claiming that he had been permanently injured by a mechanical goat while being initiated into the Modern Woodmen lodge at Arrowsmith, Charles McAfee filed suit against the lodge asking $3,000 damages.

Court Protects Lumber Drive. Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 7.—An injunction issued by the district court has been served on John Dietz and his wife, restraining Dietz from interfering with a lumber drive at Cameron dam, on Thorapple river.

IN HONOR OF DEAD VETERANS Monument to Macon County Soldiers of Civil War Is Unveiled. Decatur, Ill., April 7.—In the presence of hundreds of visitors from central Illinois cities, a monument to Macon county soldiers of the civil war was unveiled Thursday. The exercises included addresses by Lieut. Gov. Lawrence V. Sherman and by Robert Mann Woods, commander of the Illinois department of the Grand Army of the Republic. About fifty members of the Illinois legislature were present.

Vital of Matter of Life. It is not so much of importance as we are apt to think, just what we do or fail to do—whether we eat much or little, dress in gay or sober raiment, read or meditate, are active or inactive. The vital matter is the character of our thought-life, and the purity of our purpose.

MORMONS SCORED FOES OF CHURCH

Declares Critics Within the Organization the Bolls and Carbuncles That Must Be Cut Out and Off.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 7.—President Joseph F. Smith in his address at the annual conference of the Mormon church referred to recent criticisms of the policy of the church under his leadership. Speaking of critics who are or have been within the church, he said they were "the bolls, carbuncles and other excrescences of the body of the organization." In such instances there was "but one thing to do—what the surgeon does with a patient thus affected—cut them out and off."

If any members of the church were dissatisfied with the manner in which the things had been handled let them complain, he said, and he would gladly meet them. If the church desired to call him to account it could be done without causing noise or disturbance.

More than half of the bonded indebtedness of the church had been paid off, President Smith said, and the church would soon be free from debt.

Hugh J. Cannon, just returned from a three years' mission in Germany, told of the activities of the Mormon missionaries in Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania and Serbia. He said missionaries soon would be sent over the Alps into Italy.

Iowa Conference.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 7.—The general conference of the Latter Day Saints convened at Lamoni, twenty-five miles south of here. Joseph Smith, the president, 72 years of age, presided. One of the important matters to be discussed is the maintenance of Graceland college. An effort is to be made to raise a $150,000 debt and put the school on a sound financial basis. Nauvoo, Ill., has sent a petition with 300 signatures asking for the next annual conference.

WHITE PLAGUE FOE IS FOUND

Scientists Discover Tapeworm to Be Natural Enemy to Tuberculosis.

Washington, April 7.—The tapeworm is the natural enemy of the germ of consumption and the latter can not exist when the other is present," says Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, Mexico, in a report just received at the state department. The consul states that two eminent scientists have discovered that the tapeworm prevents the organism from being infected with tuberculosis bacilli and it has been proven in the case of a consumptive affected with tapeworm that he completely recovered his health. To establish the efficacy of this remedy the doctors injected a liquid prepared from the tapeworm into several consumptives, which resulted in a complete cure.

RUSSIANS TAKE OFFENSIVE.

Tokio, April 7.—Official dispatches give the first notice that Gen. Linvitch has taken the offensive against the Japanese armies in the field. The report is as follows:

"A force of cavalry with machine and mountain guns moved south on Monday from Tawo, on the Fangwa road, and next morning began a bombardment of the Japanese advanced position at Kinkiatum, north of Kalyuan."

"Simultaneously a large force of infantry advanced along the main Changchun road while two other columns delivered flank attacks. The Russians reached within 500 yards of the Japanese wings."

"The fighting continued all day Tuesday. The Japanese, although nearly surrounded, finally repulsed the enemy, losing 27 killed or wounded. The Russian casualties, estimating from the number of ambulances, were about 200."

The Kokumin states that a Japanese squadron now is blocking Vladivostok.

Fear for Linvitch. St. Petersburg, April 7.—Official information leads to the belief that the Japanese are advancing in crescent formation. Gen. Oku Commanding the left wing, Gen. Nogi and Nodzu the center and Gen. Kuroki the right wing. Their total strength is said to be 450,000 men. It is feared that Gen. Linvitch will be compelled to withdraw under penalty of finding his position turned.

A Dimpled Chin. Not one girl in 10,000 has a dimple in her chin. Indeed, the kind of dimple seems to be more frequent in men than in women. It has another peculiarity—namely, that it is permanent, whereas other dimples of the face come and go with changes of expression.

Dies Amid Medicine Bottles. An aged woman died at Dover, England, the other day in a room which no one but she had entered for thirteen years. It was found so full of medicine bottles and pill boxes that a clearance had to be made before the corpse could be removed.

CLEVER MODEL IN CREPE DE CHINE

The extreme of a graceful bouffant is observed in this simple afternoon toilette of one-seam crepe de chine. The double width of this weave makes it especially adapted to the newer modes, in which width is essential and seams and piecing to be deplored. The bodice is in a Liencr lace, with bretelle strappings of the crepe, each bretelle edged with a bouffante ribbon of the same shade or mordre pink, and ending in a rounded point above the waistline. The skirt is high in the back, and observing a graceful slope to a point in the front. The skirt is manipulated in two sections, the upper one tucked at the waistband, and finished with two deep run's tucks above a puffing of lace, which likewise serves as a heading for the extremely full flounce, which is applied with a shirring. Deep tucks appear above the hem; and bouffante ribbon is applied in looped festoons with excellent effect. Tiny ruffles of lace are run in between the last two tucks, giving a billowy appearance to the skirt hem.

TAILOR-MADE COSTUME FOR THE DEMOISELLE

Simply plain, but still chic and smart, are the wadlax designs for the demoiselle. A pale rose-colored cloth is fashioned into a little blouse coat, collarless and with an embroidered, nearly white suede for black trimming on collar, fronts and cuffs. The slightly pointed centure is similarly adorned, this suede being embroidered in pastel tints of pale blue, rose, green, and gold. The blouse is slightly full all around, and there are long position, backs that reach half-way to the knee, these, too, trimmed with the embroidered suede. The sleeve is a very full gigot, plain at the wrist and with a rather severe cuff. The skirt has a very narrow tablier effect in pleatings in the front, the sides circular in cut and a broad double-box pleat occupying the back. Two scanty volants, applied with pinched tucks, appear on the skirt, a stitched band forming a heading and little-belt crocheted buttons marking the start of each flounce. These little buttons are also used on the waist to very good effect, and a double-row of them ornament the position back.

DECISION AGAINST RAILROADS

Interstate Commerce Commission Says Rates Handicap Shipper.
 Washington, April 7.—Chairman Knapp of the Interstate commerce commission has announced the decision of the commission in the case of the Cannon Falls Farmers' Elevator company against the Chicago Great Western and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. The opinion holds that, under present rate conditions, the Cannon Falls shipper is subjected to several disadvantages, including combination of rates, neutralized competitive advantages through a system of manipulation of bills and wrongfully high rates on certain grains.

GIRL DROWNS IN MUD PUDDLE

Falls From Plank in Shallow Water and Head Sticks in Mud.
 New York, April 7.—Annie Schmidt, 10 years old, was drowned in a mud puddle at the shore of the Harlem river at 149th street. The girl fell from a plank into the water, which was only a foot and a half deep. Her head, however, was driven into the muddy bottom. The police of the Alexander avenue station are looking for an Italian who refused to listen to the cries of the girls with the Schmidt girl. They were heard by a negro who was rowing down the river. He pulled the body out.

Boycott Dealers Who Cancel Orders.

New York, April 7.—Resolutions have been adopted by the National Association of Clothiers, which is representative of the second largest manufacturing industry in the country, now in annual convention here, to boycott all retailers who unjustifiably cancel orders or return goods.

Crazed by Reading.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The issue in the Chicago election was, whether the city should attempt to buy out the traction companies and operate them within the next 30 days or whether the investment should be postponed for a year or more.

Both candidates for the office of mayor, were committed to the public ownership proposition, but Dunne was for immediate action, while Harlan was in favor of moderation.

In other words Dunne and his supporters favor radical and untried measures, which are revolutionary in character and socialistic in tendency, without giving the question time for thought or investigation, while Harlan favored the same policy by a slower route.

Chicago has voted for the municipal ownership of her street railway system and elected a mayor who is expected to transfer the property to city ownership during his term of office.

Just what effect this action will have on other cities may not be fully determined, but the chances are more than even that a mania for this sort of erratic reform will sweep over the country like an epidemic. New York is already feeling its influence, and other cities will not long escape.

The microbe is in the air and the contagion is sweeping over the country like a tidal wave. Many people are coming to believe that when a city owns its public utilities that water will be as cheap as air, gas and electric light more economical than daylight, and that street cars will be run gratuitously for the pleasure of the community.

This same class of people, and their name is legion, are clamoring for government ownership of railroads, impressed with the notion that if this can be accomplished, that everybody would ride on a pass and life would be a perpetual holiday.

Experience is the most reliable teacher and the experience of other cities, which have tested the fallacy of municipal ownership, ought to be considered before adopting revolutionary propositions.

The little city of Alameda, Cal., furnishes an object lesson which is a complete argument against this popular fallacy.

In the years 1886-87 a private company installed an electric lighting plant and furnished the city light for $5,366. The next year the city bought the plant and operated it at an expense of $13,565. It is still operating it and last year the expense was $27,335, while the receipts were only $14,783, showing a net loss of $22,552. It is estimated that the experience has cost the city a round half million dollars.

The Daily Argus, published in this unfortunate city, recently printed a table of statistics compiled by the city treasurer giving figures which must have startled the taxpayers. In commenting on the situation the paper says:

Under municipal ownership the lighting has cost Alameda an average of $26,335 a year, and this average covers the first seven years, when the enterprise was in its infancy.

In the one year of private ownership the light cost the city $5,366; in the very next year, under municipal ownership, it cost $13,565.40; and when the socialistic sentiment had egged the authorities into extending operations and engaging in the selling of commercial light, the cost more than doubled again. For nine years it fluctuated from twenty-two to thirty-four thousand (always net, it is to be remembered), but this year the net expenditure will exceed $40,000!

It is worth while to take account of the tax rate during all these years. For the year 1884, before Alameda embarked in municipal lighting at all, the tax rate was 64 cents.

In the year 1886, the first year the electric light was turned on, the rate had jumped to $1.

In 1890 it was $1.15. In 1902, after fifteen years of municipal ownership, the rate had crawled up to $1.25, where it remained for two years, when at the last levy it was increased to $1.38.

That increase was directly due to municipal ownership. All the money raised by the extra 13 cents is being spent upon the electric plant.

Isn't this enough? It would not seem necessary to enlarge at all upon the figures that are taken from the records. Alameda has an incubus that is sapping its life. Taxation increased from 64 cents to $1.38! A half million dollars of the tax of this small community accounted for in the one item of light alone!

The town can't stand it much longer. Some people are wondering what is the matter with Alameda; some hold that it has not the vitality of former years because it hasn't a railway like Berkeley's. The matter with Alameda is municipal ownership! And we wish no rival sister municipality worse luck than to see it embark upon this sort of enterprise.

If this is what happens to a town which dabbles in a lighting plant what will be the experience of a city with traction service on its hands?

The whole principle is wrong, yet the American people have gone daffy on the question, and reform leaders of the most radical type are heralded and welcomed with open arms. It's high time to call a halt.

JAPANESE RELIEF FUND.

The Gazette published yesterday an appeal from the executive committee of the Japanese Relief Fund. The headquarters of this society is in New York city and the philanthropic work in which it is engaged is most commendable.

As the result of long continued war, tens of thousands of families are left destitute, and while the government is doing all in its power to relieve suffering and the Red Cross society is contributing liberally to the work, still the means are inadequate, and the Christian people of the United States are asked to lend a helping hand.

It is a broad charity which should meet with hearty and generous response. The war of the far east comes to the people of this country like a rapidly moving panorama.

The distance is so great that the din of battle produces no echo, but to the great armies engaged this war is a dread reality and the multitude of unmarked graves on scores of battlefields are silent tokens of bitter bereavement and suffering in thousands of homes.

The Japanese Relief Fund Society aims to relieve this suffering and the appeal just sent out should arouse the sympathy of the American people to active and liberal response. All money should be sent to the Franklin Trust Company, treasurer, 140 Broadway, New York city.

The socialists of the country are not all enrolled under the banner of socialism. The most dangerous element pass as reformers and the doctrine of government control and public ownership is a popular doctrine. If it is ever adopted the nation will have taken a long stride towards socialism.

There is a tendency on the part of the American people to ignore the many laws which attempt to regulate moral conduct. The statute books of every state and city are filled with this class of laws and many of them are dead letters through lack of enforcement. Moral sentiment is alone responsible for this neglect and this alone can be criticized.

President Roosevelt is placed in a delicate position, and he realizes it. There is a popular clamor for some sort of government control of public service corporations, and unless congress takes some action looking towards this end, the republican party will be held accountable and will suffer in consequence. To deal justly and still satisfy the masses will require all the wisdom which the president can command.

The chances are that Senator Spooner will be the only representative Wisconsin will have in the senate for the next two years. He is large enough for the responsibility and the state will not suffer.

The governor realizes that it is better to stay in the state with a constituency ready to bow at his beck and call, than to be hanging around the cloak rooms of the senate, alone.

The best growing controversy appears to have settled itself, and the 5,000 acres now under contract indicates that a large majority of the farmers are satisfied.

If the city administration don't suit you, don't kick. It suits a majority of the people and majorities rule.

Milwaukee Sentinel: "One of the great pyramids of Egypt has been struck by lightning, and by all accounts the lightning got considerably the worst of it. They were no jerry builders, those ancient Egyptians."

PRESS COMMENT.

Ena Claire Leader: The bridge was needed. The city is going to have a good one, and the city will have to pay for it. To refuse to vote for the bonds at this juncture would be a good deal like disfiguring one's own face.

Menasha Record: Now that so many places have found that municipal ownership is an expensive failure and are throwing it out by three to one votes, we suppose there will be an increasingly large crop of advocates of the idea on the grounds that they can do such things better than their neighbors succeeded in doing.

Appleton Post: Doubtless there are many of the opinion that such outward respect for and observance of Memorial Day as may be compelled by law are not worth having, and the pity is, indeed, that such recourse has become necessary to safeguard the sacredness of the day. Still legislation of this sort cannot diminish in any degree the voluntary and heartfelt tributes to the nation's departed heroes, which the occasion elicits, while something will be gained from ridding the atmosphere at such time of raucous and hilarious noises. EIGHT-YEAR-OLD KILLED AT PLAY

LITTLE FRANK BORK MET DEATH ON DOWNING FARM

WHILE HANDLING A RIFLE

In the Door Yard Shortly After Ten
O'clock This Morning—Parents
Had Gone to the City.

After his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Bork, who reside on the Downing farm near the Willowdale creamery, west of the city, had gone to Janesville this morning their eight-year-old son, Frank, secured possession of a .22-calibre rifle left in the farm-house and wandered out in the door-yard to play with the weapon. It was to be his last play-day in this world but all unconscious the little boy trilled along with the heavy implement. Whether he stumbled or deliberately placed the barrel against his body, thinking the gun was not loaded, will probably never be known. At half-past ten o'clock one of his brothers who had been at work on the premises, some distance away, approached the house and saw the rifle lying on the ground. Entering the house he found the little fellow lying on a bed with an ugly wound in his body just above the abdomen from which blood was flowing profusely. Stupefied by the sight which met his eyes, the brother paused for a moment before hurrying to the nearest telephone. Dr. Farnsworth was summoned and proceeded to the scene with all possible haste. But the wound was a mortal one and all human efforts to save the boy were unavailing. Hardly an hour had elapsed after the time of the accident when the victim closed his eyes and ceased to breathe. The parents and family are almost crazed with grief over the unhappy occurrence.

BRIDGE WAS LOST BY FIFTEEN VOTES

Official Count Reported to City Council Shows Margin Smaller Than First Figures Indicated.

At the special meeting of the city council, called last evening for the purpose of canvassing the election returns, it was discovered that the proposition of bonding the city for the purpose of building a bridge at Racine street was lost by 15 votes instead of 41, the totals being 648 against and 633 in favor of the project. Instead of giving a vote of 180 to 85 against the project, the second ward on the official count had but 152 to 82 and the fourth ward gave 184 to 102 instead of 186 to 104. Tuesday night's count allowed 26 too many votes against the project. Aldermen Matheson and Schwartz were absent from the session. An order providing for the payment of the election officials was passed.

ROCKFORD DMAN ROUTED OUT OF BED TO PAY LIVERY BILL

Little Thoughtlessness on Part of W. A. Anderson Responsible. For Officer's Call.

W. A. Anderson of Rockford, retired at the Park hotel Wednesday evening without having paid for the use of a rig taken from Ryan's livery. At two o'clock Thursday morning Officer Morrissey visited the hotel and had the guest awakened and reminded of his forgetfulness. The matter was adjusted amicably.

Arthur Chapin died at noon yesterday at his home in the town of Janesville. Deceased was forty-one years of age and had always resided in Rock county, where he had many friends. His wife, Mary Chapin, a sister, Lillie Chapin, and a nephew, Hugh Hemingway, survive. The funeral will be held from the home of Mrs. Chapin's parents at Plattville on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Layman Services: The addresses by laymen at the Sunday evening services at Christ church are proving very interesting. The subject for next Sunday will be "What we mean by the term, 'The Church.'" The denominational view will be presented by Mr. A. E. Matheson; the Roman Catholic view, by Mr. E. H. Ryan; and the American Catholic view, by Mr. Geo. H. Francis of Madison.

III With Diphtheria: Mrs. Cecelia Goodman Moyer, Janesville wife of the alleged bigamist, Ira S. Moyer, is ill with diphtheria and this will preclude the possibility of her going west to testify against him on the 14th.

To Chicago Hospital: Evan Sayre, the ten-year-old boy who was accidentally shot in the head while hunting in the town of Fulton recently, will be taken to a Chicago hospital. The wounds are not healing as well as was to be anticipated.

Proceeding Creator: Frank Gorth, representing Creator and his Italian band which appears at the Myers theatre Thursday evening, April 13, paid the Gazette office a pleasant visit this afternoon. The band is just returning from a successful tour of California and the far northwest and plays tonight in Minneapolis. Mr. Gorth says that it has met with a cordial welcome everywhere. The advance man is a proprietor of the Belvidere hotel, situated on the Palisades of the Hudson, Fort Lee, New Jersey, and refuses to be infatuated with the attractions which California has to offer. "It is a land of scentless flowers and tasteless fruit," he says.

City Father's Promise. At an English town council meeting a newly-fledged magistrate, in thanking his colleagues for the honor they had conferred on him, instead of saying he would temper justice with mercy in the petty sessions court, assured them that he would do his best to "tamper with justice and mercy."

TAPPED CASH-BOX IN POP FACTORY

Two Small Boys Confess to Systematic Thefts Amounting to $150—Parents Settle.

Two small boys employed in the pop factory of Charles Gray at 54 Locust street, have confessed the theft from their employer of sums of money ranging from $10 to $20 and amounting in all to $150. The boys had been under the scrutiny of the police for some time and Wednesday night, one of them, taken to the city hall station and closely questioned, admitted that he and his companion had learned the safe combination by watching their employer manipulate the locks and thereby gaining access to the money-drawer and helped themselves to portions of the cash from time to time. On the agreement of the proprietor not to prosecute providing the money, of which he had been mulcted should be restored, the parents of the two boys recouped him for his losses and the matter was settled out of court.

NEVERTHELESS HE MUST PAY FOR IT

Fact That Jas. Dumphy May Have Purchased Whiskey After Hours Does Not Lessen Liability.

James Dumphy will have to pay for the whiskey purchased of Dan Sheridan, even the portion alleged to have been sold to him after hours. Justice Reeder today handed down a decision stipulating $31 and costs, amounting in all to $33, for the plaintiff and the Janesville Machine Co. is garnished for $43 for the same.

In the same court yesterday was tried the action of Mrs. Belle King vs. J. W. Walpole, brought to secure $235 compensation alleged to be due for 13 months' services as a housekeeper and for the use of household furniture belonging to the plaintiff. Jesse Edgar appeared for the defendant and Mr. O. Mount for the plaintiff. The parties live in the town of Bradford. Decision will be rendered Monday afternoon.

The action brought in Justice Earle's court by Oly Onsgard against the St. Paul railroad to recover $50 for sheep killed on the tracks near Orfordville, was adjourned two weeks.

UNION PAINTERS OUT ON A STRIKE

Failed to Come to Work This Morning—Master Painters Take Decided Stand.

This morning the threatened strike of the union painters commenced when they failed to report for work at the usual time. Notice was given the master painters ten days ago that a raise of twenty-five cents a day per man was desired, which if not conceded would cause a general strike. The employers claim that the union men have broken their agreement by not giving six months' instead of ten days' notice and have declared war. They have not only flatly refused to grant the increase, but have also decided to return to the open union plan. They will now employ union and nonunion men alike. It is stated that the union men have consented to return to work at the old scale of wages if the closed shop agreement will be entered into again by the master painters. The present scale is $2.50 for a nine-hour day.

WALTON PYRE HAD PLEASING VEHICLE

"A Fool and His Money" Showed What Young Actor Can Do on the Stage.

Should Walton Pyre and his company play a return date in Janesville, his new production, "A Fool and His Money," would be sure to draw a packed house. Climatic influences caused many regular theatre-goers to stay away from the opera-house last night, but those who went enjoyed one of the best comedies that has been presented here this season. Mr. Pyre has surrounded himself with an able corps of artists and the play went like clockwork, the audience demanding that the curtain be raised at the conclusion of each act, that they might show their approval of the clever work being portrayed. As Percy Merrill, the spendthrift, son of millionaire Richard Merrill, Mr. Pyre was exceedingly good. E. W. Morrison as Jean Girard, the French aristocrat who "the heart bowed" loved Percy, was a foil for the jokes that Percy continually used. Eleanor Ashton, portrayed by Miss Vellma Borrel, was the typical western girl who wins Percy's heart, wakening a sense of responsibility he had not before felt when surrounded by his human vampires who sucked his blood and money at the same time. Nellie Grant as Esmeralda, the "slave" who stole her eyes because Percy told her to, was one of the cleverest bits of character portrayal that has been seen on a Janesville stage. Ethel Howard as Celeste, the beautiful French sweetheart of Jean, was typical of the Latin race she represented. Robert Siddie, as Sandy McPherson, the man who talked glibly with the "hoot mon" accent and remembered how Black Douglas at the battle of Bannockburn heard the pipes playing "The Campbells Are Coming," was rich. Mr. Pyre has improved much since his appearance here last season and is now surrounded by an excellent company of players from New York.

In the first act Percy is found entertaining his friends in his father's home, at Racine, the second act follows, the scene being laid on the golf links the day after his expulsion from his father's home and here Percy finds who his friends really are. Eleanor Ashton and Jean are the only ones who stay by him; the rest leave with the money. The third act finds Percy and Jean at the end of the year almost destitute, in a cheap boarding-house, planning to cook their breakfast over a kerosene stove, the meal consisting of two eggs and some dry bread. Percy waits for news of an invention he has made which should be worth thousands. At the lowest ebb of their fortune, while Jean is counting three times sixty to find when the eggs are cooked, watches having long ago gone to the pawnbroker, the letter arrives announcing Percy has won out and his attorneys have a buyer for his patent.

The play closes in the parlors of a fashionable hotel where Percy demonstrates to his father he can do something and where the company of Richard Merrill, Son & Co. is formed. The company is Miss Ashton, who consents to marry Percy as Jean and his beloved Celeste start for the city, ball to be married and thus escape Celeste's awful uncle who is bound to take her back to France. There is talk of the production returning in May at which time they should have a full house. Those who saw the production last evening class it with Checkers and the County Chairman which were here earlier in the season.

RAILWAY WRECK CAUSE MANY DEATHS

Report on Accidents for Last Three Months in 1904 Shows 14,973 Casualties—14,027 Injuries.

Washington, April 7.—A report of the railroad accidents in the United States during October, November and December, 1904, has been compiled by the Interstate commerce commission. It shows that 53 passengers and 189 employees were killed, and 1,420 passengers and 1,868 employees injured in train accidents. Other accidents to passengers and employees, not the result of collisions or derailments, bring the total number of casualties up to 14,973—951 killed and 14,027 injured.

The report indicates a decrease of 175 killed and 624 injured as compared with the preceding quarter. Of the 53 passengers killed in train accidents 29 were killed in one collision between a passenger and a freight train.

The total number of collisions and derailments in the quarter was 2,950, the financial damage aggregating $2,406,201. The number of employees killed in coupling and uncoupling cars was 71—12 more than in the preceding three months.

HEIRESS MARRIES HOTEL MAN

Daughter of W. J. White of Cleveland Is Secretly Wed.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 7.—Miss Pearl M. White, daughter of W. J. White, the Cleveland millionaire grain man and former congressman, was secretly married here to James L. Bancroft, a hotel clerk. Strenuous efforts were made to keep the wedding from the public. When Miss White was asked if it was true that she had become a bride against parental wishes the 19-year-old girl blushed and said that it was true.

TWO CHILDREN ARE KILLED

Boy Swallows Button and Little Girl Is Fatally Burned.

Kewanee, Ill., April 7.—The 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Humphrey of this city swallowed a button and died from the effects.

The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thorp of this city was burned to death. The child's clothes caught fire from a stove.

TWO HEAVY FINES IMPOSED BY COURT

Upon Pleas of Guilty Being Entered by John Dulin and Clarence McDonald Today.

In municipal court this morning appeared John Dulin and Clarence McDonald, the two young men implicated in the theft on March 26 of a gold watch and a small sum of money from Thomas Kennarth, a boarder at the Madison house. Both pleaded guilty to the charge and when asked if they had anything to say, Dulin stated that he was under the influence of liquor when he took the property and did not dare return it. McDonald said that he did not know it was a stolen watch when he became interested in the disposal of the property in Chicago. Thomas Kennarth, the principal witness, testified that he was drinking with the boys at the time the valuables were taken and added that he would not wish to prosecute them. Judge Fifield said that although the punishment for this crime ranged from 7 years imprisonment to a heavy fine, inasmuch as it was the first offense on the part of either of the boys, the court was disposed to be lenient. He was satisfied that McDonald did not know of the stealing until after it had happened. The punishment stipulated was a fine of $35 and costs amounting to $52.77, in all $87.77, or 90 days in jail, for Dulin, and $25 and costs amounting to $12.95, with the alternative of 40 days in jail, for McDonald. The fines and costs were paid. T. S. Nolan represented McDonald.

Babe Drowns in Wash tub.
Williamsport, Pa., April 7.—While trying to reach a clothes pin lying in the bottom of a wash tub, the 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Franquet fell head foremost into the tub and was drowned in six inches of water.

Louisa, Sister of Chief Salsate, Thrown From a Horse in Spokane.
Salsate, Wash., April 7.—Louisa, the famous old squaw, and sister of Chief Salsate of the Coeur d'Alene tribe, after whom this place is named, was probably fatally hurt on the streets of Spokane. The old woman was riding a pony on one of the downtown streets when by some mishap the animal slipped and fell. The rider was thrown violently to the ground and sustained injuries which will probably prove fatal.

POISON GIRLS BY WHOLESALE
Remarkable Case in Cotton Mill in a Polish Town.
Warsaw, April 7.—An extraordinary case of wholesale poisoning has occurred at a cotton mill at Pabianice. Seventy girls in the coloring department were taken suddenly ill and fell to the floor unconscious. Thirty of them were taken to a hospital in a dangerous condition. An investigation showed that the illness of the girls was due to arsenic having been sprinkled through the room by unknown miscreants.

Dislocates Jaw While Yawning.
Augusta, Ky., April 7.—While yawning, the lower jaw of Ray Taylor, a farmer, became dislocated and doctors worked with him for a long while before he was relieved. The accident happened in the country, and the young man was almost dead before he reached town.

Falling Footpath Kills Girl.
Colfax, Wash., April 7.—The collapse of the footpath of a bridge across the Palouse river, in the heart of the city, precipitated a score of young people into the shallow stream below. One person, Miss Mary Onstot of Asotin, was drowned.

NEWS FOR THE PLAY-GOERS

Raymond Hitchcock and a few friends were discussing repartee of the present and past generations the other day. "The Yankee Consul" insisted that our ancestors had quicker wits than the men of this commercial age. In order to substantiate this assertion Mr. Hitchcock, who is a deep reader, said he would repeat a few retorts made by famous men and women of the by-gone days. "One of the best I remember," he said, "was made by the venerable Charles Wesley, when he was once rudely confronted in a very narrow pathway by an arrogant, clerical opponent, who accused him with the words: 'I never make way for a fool.' Wesley at once stepped aside and remarked as he passed on with a courteous bow, 'I always do.'"

A society bore once told Charles Lamb that he considered Shakespeare unworthy of the universal commendation bestowed upon him. "Had I the mind to do it," said the top, "I could produce plays quite equal to those of Shakespeare." "Just so," responded Lamb. "Of course it is only the mind that is lacking."

"The wise and witty Bishop of Oxford was once waited on by a clergyman who came to lodge a querulous complaint against a local brother of the cloth whom he accused of ritualistic practices. 'For instance,' said the aggrieved cleric, 'does your Lordship consider it right for a priest to kiss a stole?' 'Well,' replied the prelate, with a humorous twinkle in his eye, 'I think there would be better ground for complaint if he stole a kiss.'"

The following racy retort made by a brilliant literary lady at a recent dinner, was as smart as it was well deserved. An indiscreet guest of the male persuasion ventured to remark that, "Woman's chief mission in life was to make fools of men." "Admitting the statement," responded the lady in question, "How tantalizing it is to discover that, in many cases, Nature has forestalled us."

The celebrated Fontenelle, when ninety years old, happened to pass his friend, the beautiful Madame Favellius in the public street; without perceiving her. "Ah," exclaimed has no beginning."

"A bragging fire thinker once found whose worldly minded daughter had recently offended him by fresh acts of misconduct, greeted her with the words, 'Good morning, child of the Evil One.' In reply to which came the innocent, but crushing response, 'Good morning, Father.'"

The version of Uncle Tom's Cabin interpreted by Steegson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, which will exhibit at Myers Grand, April 8, matinee and night, has the special approval of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, the immortal authoress of that world-famed drama, from the fact that Manager Kibbler's adherence to the original text, which is a complete deviation from the custom of other Uncle Tom managers, who interpolate so many attempted gags, stale jokes and vulgar whimsies into their rendition that scarcely a vestige is left of the never-to-be-forgotten work. The excellent company's two comical Tomsies, two ludicrous Marks, the excellent scenery, the novel mechanical effects, the ferocious bloodhounds, two brass bands and the celebrated Lone Star Quartette will all unite in making the engagement a most notable one.

JOURNALISM TO BE TAUGHT AT THE UNIVERSITY SOON.

WHAT THE CARDINAL DOES

Gives the Prospective Newspaper Man an Insight Into the Business.

Madison, Wis., April 7.—President C. R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin cherishes the plan to establish a practical school of journalism which he contemplates will become one of the most important departments of the university. He has observed the success which attends the students who take the untutored and partially undirected course in journalism of the Daily Cardinal, the official daily paper of the university, and he appreciates the truth of what Mayor George B. McClellan of Great New York said in his recent statement to the effect that "journalism is a school for men who become high in public life." The only practical work offered in the university as a preparation for a newspaper career is that of the Daily Cardinal, and this work is not a regular course, not fostered by a professor and assistants, not required of any students and no university academic credit is accorded for the work. However, the students who act as reporters and editors of the college daily paper find ready and responsible positions on large and influential papers and make more rapid progress in this profession than do other students, equally prepared so far as collegiate standing is concerned. In a recent address before the Wisconsin State Press Association convention, President Van Hise declared his belief in the value of practical newspaper work as the best preparation for the profession of journalism and in a way outlined his plan for the establishment of a larger opportunity for such preparation than now offered the students.

The Daily Cardinal was first successfully published as a daily newspaper under the editorship of W. W. Young, now Sunday editor of one of the leading Chicago papers, and was for years a success as a paper, but not as a financial project, until the business was managed by Samuel W. Kies, now an assistant in the office of the city attorney of Chicago. He placed the paper on its feet and it has since been a money-maker to the extent of some $1,100 a year, besides paying all expenses and supporting some meager salaries for the leading editors, and providing some notable cash prizes for the most meritorious reporters. The work is done entirely by students. The paper is gotten out in a printing office a mile away from the university, where university professors are seldom seen except to insert notices. The faculty exercises practically no supervision over the publication and the student editors are in entire authority. The Daily Cardinal is established by the university regents as the official paper of the institution and encouraged as such.

The staff is large because many students recognize the college paper as a practical avenue to newspaper work and although applicants for positions are numerous and they are always carefully scrutinized by the leading editors, it is found desirable to give a large number the opportunity to assist in the work. There are twenty-four young men on the staff, and one young woman, who acts as the reporter for the woman's dormitory, Chaboune hall. The work and responsibility are divided, each person having a specified task for the adequate performance of which he is held accountable. The business management is in charge of the business manager, who is charged with the heavy task of soliciting advertisements, making contracts, keeping the accounts and paying the bills and salaries of the paper, besides attending to all the multitudinous incidents of the proper business management. The editor-in-chief is responsible for the filling of the editorial column and has as his assistants in this department a staff of associate editors. These places are more honorary than arduous. The greater part of the work is done by the managing editor. He is the working head of the newspaper, the "desk man," copy reader, writer of headlines and director of the "make up." The news is gathered and prepared by the university editor, assisted by the reporters. The university editor corresponds to the "city editor" of large papers. By precedent there has become established

ALFRED SPEER'S SURPRISE.

Well Known Business Man Tells of Peculiar Experience.

Few business men are better known throughout the country than Alfred Speer of Passaic, N. J. Although he is over eighty-one years of age and the head of a large concern, as well as the editor of the Passaic Item, yet he found time to write the following letter, hoping that it would be of interest and benefit to our readers.

"To the Editor:— I cannot keep from expressing my surprise at the wonderful relief and benefit I derived from the use of Hyomel. For some years past I have been a victim to nasal and throat catarrh, and during that time have expended a great many dollars to specialists, and had my throat sprayed, washed and smoked week after week. The first time I used Hyomel I was surprised at the change it brought. This was a few months ago, and I have used it occasionally since. It makes me so well that I often forget and neglect its use for several days, but each time when I breathe it the hawking and discharge cease, and it is wonderful how it acts. I am over eighty-one years of age, and careful not to praise anything until I know what I am about. Respectfully yours, Alfred Speer."

The complete Hyomel outfit, including the inhaler, costs but $1, while extra bottles sell for 50 cents. You run no risk whatever in buying it, as Peoples Drug Store sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. Ask them to show you a copy of their guarantee.

ed a line of succession, according to which the reporters who show the most diligence and merit in this, the most thankless work of the paper, are promoted to editorships, becoming in turn university editor, managing editor, and finally business manager. This line of succession furnishes a stimulus for earnest work in one's first year on the paper and a motive for continuing on the staff. The force which this year is making the Daily Cardinal is as follows:

Editor-in-Chief—Edward S. Jordan, '05, Milwaukee.
Managing editor—John J. Moffatt, '05, Davenport, Iowa.
Asst. Managing Editor—Reuben J. Neekerman, '05, Madison.
University editor—Peter H. Schram, '05, Madison.
Asst. Univ. Ed.—Edwin C. Jones, '07, Portage.
Public editor—T. Logan Boyd, '07, Chicago.
Exchange editor—N. W. Rosenheim, '06, Kewaskum.
High school editor—Paul Hammer-smith, '07, Milwaukee.
Business manager—Ernst W. Landt, '05, Milwaukee.
Associate editors—Max Loeb, T. J. Mahon, D. W. Hoan, H. J. Barry, Albert Vinson, G. S. McConochie, F. W. MacKenzie, F. E. Williams and G. W. Woolledge.
Reporters—Roy E. Noyes, J. H. Coe, William Field, J. B. Robertson, Frederick Bagley, John T. Brown and Miss Oral J. Shunk.

Labor Notes

Recently twenty-five boys, each under 14 years of age, were discharged at the Armour packing house in Kansas City, in compliance with a state law passed at a recent session of the Kansas legislature, prohibiting factories and packing houses from employing children under 14 years of age.

The authorities have notified all strikers in the Russian State factories belonging to the army and navy reserves that they will immediately be drafted to Manchuria if they do not resume work.

The Ship Painters and Dockers' Union, of Sydney, Australia, has 220 members.

President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to address a meeting of miners at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on August 10.

The recent Washington legislature defeated bills to prohibit boycotting and to repeal the state eight-hour law.

The Ralston Anti-Boycott bill, a measure similar to that recently enacted in Alabama, was overwhelmingly defeated by the recent legislature of California.

The National Metal Trades' Association is an organization of machinery manufacturers of the United States, and has its purpose in the defense of employers from demands of labor unions. The organization has on its membership rolls between 400 and 500 firms, and represents the employees of more than 100,000 men. It has always stood for the "open shop" idea, and all the establishments controlled by it are run on this principle.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Edgerton, April 5.—Rev. John Spillman united in marriage Miss Edith Radenz and Mr. George Lietz. The ceremony took place at the German Lutheran church at 3 o'clock p. m., in the presence of a number of friends. The wedding reception and supper were held at their new home, on the Page farm, where the young couple will start life with the best wishes of their many friends following. Mr. and Mrs. Lietz were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

Gilbertson-Haylock
A pretty wedding at the Norwegian Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock was attended by a large number. The contracting parties were Miss Marie Gilbertson and Mr. Herbert Haylock, both well-known young people of our city. Rev. J. Linnevald officiating. After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Josephine Gilbertson, where an elaborate dinner was spread for the invited guests. The young couple will reside in the third ward.

Saxby-Walker

Giving their friends here the slip, Miss Addie Saxby accompanied Frank H. Walker to Rockford, Ill., Wednesday morning, where they were united in marriage by Rev. Snyder of the Congregational church of that city. A warm reception, however, was tendered them upon their return Wednesday evening. The home of the groom's parents was filled with many friends who left many tokens of their esteem. The Walker homestead near Stebbinsville will be occupied by the happy pair.

Three Large Audiences

For three evenings this week J. Har. Basel and wife have entertained crowded houses at the M. E. church. Four years in succession has Mr. Basel returned with his picture show to Edgerton and each time has been greeted with appreciative audiences. Mr. Basel has a good outfit, fine slides and films and gives satisfaction each time.

Edgerton Brifets

The house recently vacated by Mr. Heustis is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Saunders of Albion.

Mrs. Will Borden entertained her uncle, John Haggerty, a portion of the week.

Miss Martha Mielz of Janesville was here Wednesday to attend the Radenz-Lietz wedding.

Mel. Johnson is visiting his mother in this city. Mr. Johnson is now in the employment of a Chicago firm.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Warner have moved into the Stillman house on Washington street.

Mrs. Albert Rader spent Wednesday with Clinton friends.

Mrs. Jas. Joyce returned Tuesday from an over-Sunday visit with her sister at Milwaukee.
Don't forget the big minstrel carnival at Royal hall next Monday evening. The carnival is given for the benefit of the Edgerton corner band.

TELLS WHAT BEET GROWERS DESIRE

F. H. Bemis Contributes Article to Sugar Beet Journal—System of Factories.

half head.
F. H. Bemis, secretary of the Southern Wisconsin Beet Growers' association, has contributed an article to the Beet Growers Journal, the Sugar Industry and Beet Sugar Gazette, in which he makes an interesting statement concerning growing beets on highly valued tobacco lands, like the fields of Rock county, and also tells of a system of small sugar beet slicing plants, ten miles apart, and connecting with a central refinery by pipe lines or tank line railroads, which he considers most advantageous to the farmers. His letter follows:

"I take this method of attracting the attention of The Gazette's many readers to what seems to me a great necessity to make the growing of sugar beets profitable on our high-priced tobacco lands in Wisconsin, and perhaps other districts where much of the land is valued from $100 to $200 per acre.

"In order to maintain the high standard of fertility necessary for tobacco, beets, etc., we must keep large herds of cattle or other stock, dairy cows being usually preferred, and the sugar beet pulp is an excellent feed for them.

"We would like mills of moderate cost to clean, slice and treat the beet juice, these mills not to be over ten or twelve miles apart and the juice sent in tank cars or pipe lines to a central refinery. This would save the vast tonnage now being moved so far, and the farmer could draw his beets to mill and pulp from the mill to put in silo for feed on the return trip. Under present methods this valuable feed is lost to all but a few growers who live close to the mills. Now, let some clever engineer publish estimates and brief specifications for such a plant, and see if he does not hear from the beet growers' associations in dairy districts."

LIBRARY ASSURED AT EDGERTON NOW

Common Council Accepts Carnegie, Baptist Church Society and Culton Estate Offers.

By the action of the Edgerton common council a Carnegie public library in that city is now assured. An offer of $10,000 from the Carnegie fund was made to the citizens of the town, provided they raise no less than $1,000 annually for the maintenance of the library and building and also secure a site. Some time ago the Baptist church society intimated that the old church, once occupied by them but for years vacant, would make a good building in which to house a public library and it was upon this idea that the library board entered into correspondence with the handlers of the Carnegie fund. Tuesday evening heirs representing the Culton estate and trustees of the Baptist society proffered a deed of the old church property to the city council, which offer with the Carnegie donation was accepted. The probable plan will be to tear down the building now occupying the lot and erect an up-to-date structure, making use of all the old material that is fit for such a building. The auditorium will be named in honor of the donors, "Culton Memorial hall."

MEDAL CONTEST AND GRADUATION

TWO SUBJECTS OF INTEREST AT HIGH SCHOOL.

SENIORS PRACTICE FOR PLAY

Will Present "She Stoops to Conquer"—Rhetorical Contest

Next Friday.

All interest at high school now centers in the preparation of the seniors for graduation and the preliminary rhetorical contests which culminate next Friday night in the medal competition and lead to the league, district and state declamatory contests. For the last two evenings at the close of school have been held the intersection or class extemporaneous contests and during the last several days the speakers in the declamatory and oratorical competitions of the medal contest have been announced, while the members of the senior class are spending the after and before school hours in trying out for the cast of characters for the play, which will probably be selected next week and then these to represent the 1905 class in the commencement exercises will be chosen.

Goldsmith's Play.

The play that will be presented by the graduating class is "She Stoops to Conquer," and though Goldsmith's famous work is a classic, its structure is light and fitted better than almost any other stage piece for high school or college production, where the cast of characters can be selected from a number of apt students of the historical art. In nearly every instance more than one is practicing for a role and Mrs. Janet B. Day, who will select the cast and stage the play, will have a choice for the best and be compelled to accept no certain person for a part because of a lack of candidates. By the end of next week the cast will probably have been settled upon.

Poets Are Many.

Friday evening, April 14, will be held the annual medal contest in the auditorium of the high school. There will be the regular competitions in oratorical, declamatory, extemporaneous and poetical work for the medals. Already a large number of names for entrance in the poem contest have been handed in an equally large number of compositions in verse will be placed by the students for markings in the contest.

Those who deliver orations in the contest have been selected. The choice was made, judging the various manuscripts for their English, their structure, their diction and their persuasive possibilities. Any member of the junior or senior class was allowed to enter the preliminary contest and the election of the following was made from no small number: Cora Holt, Orville Swift, Grace Wintertrot and Ruth Fifield with Clara Jones as alternate. This list is not given in the order in which the different ones took rank.

The Declaimers.

The selection of the declaimers for the final contest was made by the teachers and there "five in five." They are Ethel Hodge, Irma Shoemaker, Ada Longley, Florence Spooner and Elmer Dreyer.

All of the intersection extemporaneous contests have been held and the interclass contest for the choosing of the speakers for the medal contest being in the school this afternoon. Those who will represent the senior class are: Cecil Clary, Clara Jones, Ruth Fifield and Clayton Fisher with Howard Steward as alternate.

Those who will speak for the juniors are: George McGee, Earl Brown, Frank Phelps and Jerome Davis, with Walter Kaemmerer as alternate.

Other Candidates.

The sophomores who will extemporize in the competition are: Leonel Burgess, Clarence Wood, Wallace Mills and Mabel Isaacs, with Will Spohn as alternate.

The speakers chosen from the Freshman class are: Violet Dreyer, Stewart Richards, Leo Atwood and W. B. Tallman with John Dawson as alternate.

PRESS COMMENT ON UNIVERSITY BILL

A Permanent Tax for the University
The Milwaukee Journal: The present policy of biennial appropriations should be discontinued and a permanent tax levy made to support the university. The bill pending in the legislature, which provides for a two-fifths of a mill tax, should pass without opposition. With such a law the university could plan for the future and expend the money in a manner which would bring the largest returns. It is real economy to make this provision. The university will have a better equipment at a smaller expense and the state will be the gainer.

As a matter of fact, the state is under obligations to the university to give it an income that is both sufficient and sure. Through a mistake in policy the university was induced by the state to sell its lands at a very low price in order to encourage the settlement of the state. The university was thus deprived of a source of revenue that would mean much to it at the present time. It is only right for the state now to make adequate and permanent provision in place of that which was taken from the university for the good of the state. The people of the state ought to play fair with their own institutions.

There ought to be no extravagance, and there will be none in the university expenditures. The administrative officers are men of experience and business ability, and there is no danger that they will not properly guard the interests of the public. The legislature ought to keep in touch with the university and know what is being done with the people's money. The legislature has a right to know this. It should not be forgotten, however, that this can be done under the permanent tax as well as under the appropriation system.

University Appropriation Measure
The Superior Telegram: This is a measure which is calculated to provide for the maintenance of the university at Madison, and its provisions are of interest to the people of the state as much so as any appropriation measure at Madison. The Superior Telegram believes that the University of Wisconsin has become of such importance to the people of the state that there is a universal demand for ample, liberal appropriations for its maintenance.

The fundamental point in reference to the bill is that it provides for the support of the university in proportion to the wealth of the state, or more exactly, in proportion to the taxable general property of the state, and thus will give an increasing income to the university as the assessed valuation of the general taxable property increases. But such increase of income does not involve any increase in the burden of any one man since the amount the university receives remains in proportion to the assessed valuation of the property. The university has done most excellent work not only in an educational way but in lines of practical research in the applied sciences and it has become an active institution in the development of the latent resources of the state as well as a center of useful and educational training and of higher inspiration for many thousands of the sons and daughters of Wisconsin. It is of concern to every citizen of the state that this institution be supported liberally, and it is a matter of state pride that this institution maintain the high rank among the universities of the country to which it has attained.

A Good Business Proposition

(Evening Wisconsin): The bill for the future maintenance of the University of Wisconsin is based upon sound business principles. Its chief aim is to provide an annual income for the university by giving it a share of the taxes received by the state, so that when at any time there is not sufficient money in the general fund to provide for the university there will be authority to levy an assessment that will bring the income up to the amount provided in the constitution. The University of Wisconsin is an institution of which every citizen of the state is justified in feeling proud, and it should, therefore, be adequately supported. The university is destined to grow with the wealth and population of the state, and a tax provision would establish an expanding scale of income to meet the increase in attendance and provide the facilities for the education of the students.

Funds for the University

Free Press: The attendance at the state university this year is 550 greater than it was two years ago. If the same rate of increase is kept up—and there is every reason to believe it will be—the attendance two years hence will be 1,100 greater than in 1903; an increase in four years of about 45 per cent. This growth means something more than the great popularity of the school, or the prosperity of the Wisconsin people in general that enables them to give their children the advantages of a university education. It means a greatly increased cost of running the institution, and it means that the legislature has simply got to provide for this increase, or the efficiency of the university will be crippled. President Van Hise asks the legislature to provide a regular income sufficient to support the school, to add departments that are needed, and to increase the capacity of any buildings that are altogether crowded and inadequate. The university is an assessment of two-fifths of a mill on the property of the state is suggested, to be collected when there is not sufficient money in the general fund to provide the necessary means of support.

This great increase in the number of students and in the increased demand for room and facilities, for an increased instructional force, and for apparatus, is evidence that would be received in any court that Wisconsin is a prosperous state; increasing in population and wealth. This being true, it is safe to say that the amount of money required to carry on the school properly is not greater than was required years ago when there were but 600 students in the university. In other words, the state can better afford to provide the support the university needs at present than it could twenty years ago what it needed then. Charge the university with all it has cost, in buildings, all it has cost for apparatus, all it has cost for instruction, and credit it with what it has done for the state in its agricultural department, and experiment station: work that has resulted in adding to the material welfare of Wisconsin, and there will be a big balance on the credit side of the sheet. So we say that the university has never cost the state a dollar.

A NEW CIGAR.

Present Wadsworth Bros' Chico

Which Sells Like Wild Fire. Smith Drug Co. have recently introduced a new brand of cigars—Wadsworth Bros' Chico. In size and quality they are the style of a ten cent cigar, but retail at five cents straight.

Smith Drug Co. aim to give the smokers of Janesville the best goods possible, and they believe that in pushing and recommending the Chicos they have done a good thing for people who like a good cigar at a reasonable price.

The Chicos are made from a long clear Havana filler, and burn with a solid ash. In flavor and fragrance they cannot be told from cigars that retail at ten and fifteen cents. The fact that they are today the favorite smoke of the most fastidious trade, people who heretofore smoked nothing but ten and fifteen cent cigars, shows that this is true. Prove it for yourself, however, by trying a Chico. Put down a dime at Smith Drug Co.'s cigar counter and see if the two cigars you get are not better than any cigar you ever smoked before for twice the money.

A ROSE OF NORMANDY

By WILLIAM R. A. WILSON

"You know not what you ask, mademoiselle. You would be the first to despise me were I to yield," and hastily raising her hand to his lips, he strode rapidly away. Renee kissed the spot where his lips had been, and, sinking to the ground, burst into tears of mingled despair and joy.

The next day when his little canoe passed through the straits, a lone figure waved adieu from the edge of the highest cliff back of the settlement, and when the tiny speck had disappeared from view repaired to the chapel, there to pray for the safety of one about to encounter great peril.

Tonti reached Fort Miami at the mouth of the river in safety and there found his men who had preceded him in a larger vessel. They were all well and had made a good-sized fleet of canoes, but were much disturbed at rumors they had heard that, during the early summer, the Iroquois had made a grand invasion of the country of the Illinois and had driven them from their homes, murdering and scattering the tribes. Tonti, with this corroborative of the Indian's vision, was still more alarmed for the safety of his friend, and pushed on with all speed. They found plenty of deer and buffalo, and were thus enabled to lay in a bountiful supply of meat. As they drew near the great town of the Illinois their fears were confirmed. Instead of the noise of a great encampment they found silence. The meadow below the high rock was one scene of devastation and ruin. The charred remains of the lodges were all of human habitation that remained standing. Bones and skulls were strewn about in great abundance. The Indian graves elevated on four poles had been broken down and their contents scattered. A horde of wolves fled from the ghastly repast at their approach, while a crowd of buzzards wheeled above their heads with angry cries at being thus disturbed.

The rumors were indeed true. While making an attack on the eastern white settlements another portion of the ferocious Iroquois confederacy had gone westward to annihilate their red enemies. No signs of human life were there left to tell of the disaster that had befallen. Tonti hastened with his men on down to the widening in the river near which Fort Creve-Coeur had been erected. This, too, was a ruin, although destroyed by other hands than the Iroquois. The uncompleted vessel still stood on the stocks, on whose side was scrawled, "Nous sommes tous sauvages." This told the story of further treachery and desertion on the part of La Salle's followers. Leaving the most of his party at this spot, Tonti continued his journey with Pompon and a canoe full of picked men. They descended the river until they reached the Mississippi, but no traces of La Salle were to be found. As they progressed they could discern the spot where the retreating Illinois had camped on one side of the stream, while on the opposite side their foes had kept a sharp watch over their retreat. Returning again, they rested with their entire force at the site of Fort Creve-Coeur. The autumn was rapidly passing, so they finally determined to go back to Fort Miami and take up winter quarters, sending out search parties in all directions to try and discover any trace of La Salle and the remnant of his men.

CHAPTER XXIV.
SHOWS THAT THE LIFE OF AN EXPLORER IS FAR FROM TAME.

After Tonti's departure for Quebec, La Salle had proceeded to occupy his force as best he might until his return. The building of a vessel progressed but slowly, owing to continual dissatisfaction and unrest among his men.

OFFENSIVE CATARRH

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh, and took a great deal of medicine without any benefit.

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly.

I heard of your S. S. S. and wrote you. I commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease.

I had Nasal Catarrh for years for which I used S. S. S. with very gratifying results. I tried local applications for some time, and getting no permanent relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood medicine I began its use, and after using it for some little while it did away entirely with the offensive mucus in the nostrils, and I did not have to hawk and spit, especially in the morning, to dislodge the catarrhal matter.

Challenges World.

J. H. Hartmann, St. Louis Trick Bag Puncher, Claims Championsh.

John Henry Hartmann of St. Louis now claims the title of champion bag puncher of the world. He says his record shows that he has defeated all comers to date. He asserts his readiness to defend his title of world's champion against all who are willing to contest it in public before proper judges and referees. In token of his sincerity and for the purpose of confirming his right to the title he has issued a challenge to all comers to meet him in a bag punching contest for the world's championship.

The young St. Louisian who thus enters the lists of world's champions is twenty-five years old, slender, but why, quick and active as a cat. He lives at 3352 Texas avenue and is a nickel and copper player by trade. He stands five feet seven inches in his stockings, weighs 125 pounds, has a chest measurement of thirty-two inches and claims to have punched 500 points to the minute in a public bag punching contest. His most marked muscular development is in the chest and back, especially about the shoulders. His biceps, forearms and leg muscles are not particularly prominent.

Among the professional bag punchers named by Hartmann as having been defeated by him in public contests are Booth and Heldt of St. Louis and Seebach of Boston, also many "unknowns" who have at various times responded to his challenges. He hopes to have an opportunity to meet David Meyer of St. Louis, now in Germany, and the Keely brothers of New York.

"Punching the bag while standing on a slack rope," said Hartmann, "is one of the most difficult of all tricks in bag punching contests. The slack rope is but a few inches from the floor, and the bag is about at the same height relatively as when one is doing straight out bag punching. When it is remembered that the ordinary man would find it difficult to remain on the slack rope at all the trying nature of this test can be understood more fully. The bag puncher must deliver his blows, advance, retreat, dodge, recover and the like without losing his balance on the slack rope, and this is an achievement possible only after long practice.

"Aerial bag punching consists in punching the bag while swinging by the feet head downward from rings suspended from the ceiling. The bag is attached to a stake that rises but a foot or so from the floor and bobs about freely in every direction. This is some-

It is also another of the tricks that must be performed to an accompaniment of music, the strokes being in tune with the rhythm. Another aerial feature consists of swinging by the knees from a trapeze and punching one or more bags suspended a few feet below."

Do You Know Good Healthy Sleep?

A healthy person sleeps a healthy sleep when tired.

When you find that half the time you can't sleep in the same old healthy way then it is time to take care of your nerves.

Tired nerves won't let you sleep well and won't let you feel well. They are sick; they demand attention and they won't let you alone until they get it. No prescription has ever been formulated that produced such wonderful and rapid results in building up tired nerves as Paine's Celery Compound.

Sleeplessness is simply one of the many warnings that tired, sick nerves give. Feed them with Paine's Celery Compound and you will build them back to their real strength and find again that good, healthy sleep—which should come as natural to-day as it did in childhood.

You can take Paine's Celery Compound once a day, or once a month, or four times a day, according to your need; and when the medicine has done its work and your system is again running in the complete harmony of true health, you can cease taking the medicine, and you will not miss it. The reason is that Paine's Celery Compound is a real food for the nerve. It feeds and strengthens the entire nerve fabric.

The force sent out by healthy nerves is nature's stimulus, to keep all the organs of the body working well.

It is by restoring the nerves and making new Nerve Force that Paine's Celery Compound works all its wonders.

Health, vigor, determination, courage—in fact, all that makes life worth living depends upon a healthy supply of nerve force.

Paine's Celery Compound makes new Nerve Force, it revives the old force and makes new. It not only does this, but by strengthening the nerves that control all the organs of the body, it cures the real cause of headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, malaria, and the many diseases coming from a run down condition of the nerves.

Two days' treatment with Paine's Celery Compound will prove its marvelous power.

It braces you up and you feel its marvelous effect almost instantly.

A case of extreme nervousness and lack of good healthy sleep is told by Charles F. Campbell.

"I would jump at my own shadow. I suffered so from extreme nervousness. Every spring my condition was worse than the previous year. I was completely fagged out from loss of sleep, and a nervous wreck. Something had to be done or I would surely have gone crazy.

"A member of my family had taken your Paine's Celery Compound, and just for luck I took a dose of it one day. The details of my own cure would take too much time to relate, but it is sufficient that I consider that dose brought luck indeed.

"I am better physically and mentally at this moment than I have been since boyhood.

"I beg to remain, yours respectfully, C. F. Campbell, 263 Washington St., Boston, March 18, 1904."

For 18 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world. Several years ago the formula was sent to every registered physician in the United States. It is constantly prescribed by physicians.

Think for a moment what this means and remember that Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians America has ever known—Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University. Paine's Celery Compound is recommended and sold by all reputable druggists everywhere.

DISTRICT MEETING OF GOOD TEMPLARS HELD AT MILTON WEDNESDAY.

Albanian Missionary Will Visit Rev. and Mrs. McClelland Monday.

Milton, April 7.—The Good Templars held a district convention here Wednesday, delegates being in attendance from the lodges in this locality. The usual business incident to such conventions was transacted. In the evening Grand Chief W. H. Clark of Ripon addressed a good sized audience.

The fair, under the auspices of the Women's Club, at the old Milton House, next week, will be the event of the season and you should arrange your affairs to be there.

The System Lives On Good, Rich Blood

People Who Lack the Proper Quantity and Quality of Blood Fall Victims to Every Disease That's Prevalent.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The blood is the medium through which every tissue, every organ is supplied with the material it needs upon and rebuilds itself with. Take away that nourishment by letting the blood run down in quantity and quality, and you take away the power of an organ of tissue to resupply waste or rebuild itself. In other words, the system starves; color, appetite, steadiness, energy, vigor, vitality—all are lost and a condition of mental and physical prostration sets in. This condition Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure by their power to manufacture good, rich, nutritious, oxygen carrying blood, a blood that carries to every organ the very material it lives and thrives upon.

Mr. George Horkins of Westinghouse Avenue, Wilmering, Pa., says:

"I began to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in Pittsburgh. I was at the time badly run down, weak, nervous—could not eat—could not sleep well. The medicine, put me in splendid shape rapidly and easily, giving me steady nerves—a general feeling of energy and vigor and good rich blood that showed in the way my color came back. The medicine is certainly a grand one and I am only too glad to say so. 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, M. D., on every package.

Under date of August 5, 1904, Mrs. Emma Pines, of Haverhill, Mass., writes: "I have taken only two bottles of Seven Barks and I derived very much benefit from the use of it. I was troubled with Sick Headache, Indigestion and Biliousness, and was so nervous I could not rest at night. Since taking your Seven Barks my Indigestion has disappeared and I can rest well, and everything I eat now tastes so good."

One cannot feel well or be well if robbed of their sleep, and there's nothing like having everything you eat taste good to you. Good health is possible only when the stomach is kept in good order. Seven Barks will put your disordered stomach right and keep it right. We know what we are talking about—know that Seven Barks will positively cure any disorder of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. We sell many bottles of it on our offer of no cure, no pay. If you want to try it, deposit 50 cents with us and make the trial—if Seven Barks fails to give you as much benefit as expected, call in at any time and get your money. Never mind what other medicines haven't done, Seven Barks "cures."

The Terrible Skin Torture.

Makes Life a Hell For Thousands of Miserable Human Beings.

Astonishing Good News To Such Sufferers.

The D.D.D. Remedy Gives Instant Relief.

PERMANENTLY CURES.

Have you been—or do you know anyone who has been—in a living hell of torture with a skin disease? Despair usually seizes those so afflicted. Many imagine it is in the blood and too subtle to cure. Doctors have stood baffled and helpless against Eczema. Half of them think its worse forms are blood poison. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of manifestations on the skin are purely local—SKIN disease—not BLOOD disease. Healthy blooded people break out as often as any one; the blood has nothing to do with it in most cases. It is a parasite in the skin that spreads. This prescription is today completely clearing away—quickly too—and permanently curing every trace of such parasitic trouble and leaves the skin soft, healthy and perfect. Call at our store and investigate the unquestionable proofs in our possession.

The prescription is a liquid for external application—non-greasy—does not stain or discolor the wearing apparel. It comes under authentic label of the D. D. D. Company of Chicago, who solely compound the prescription for druggists everywhere.

PAINFUL PERIODS

Suggestions How to Find Relief from Such Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful or irregular something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

More than fifty thousand women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes painful and irregular menstruation.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes of 540 N. Davidson Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. I suffered many years with painful periods, headache and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the East advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural; every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from irregular periods, headache and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the East advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural; every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass. Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.
